Unpaid Caregivers Are the Largest Healthcare Workforce

Nationwide, more than 53 million people (1 out of 5 of us) are caregivers providing essential support to family members and friends who can no longer live independently. It's estimated that the care they provide is worth nearly half a trillion dollars—making caregivers the largest healthcare workforce in the country and a vital resource for the nation.

In Illinois, about half (47%) of voters 50+ have experience as family caregivers. Among this group, 64% said they worked paying jobs while providing care. So what can we do to support caregivers, who are often unpaid for their labor providing care to older adults, mastering complex medical-nursing tasks, spending their own funds for caregiving expenses, caring for children and grandchildren, and have little time to attend to their own self-care?

“ There are only four kinds of people in the world: those who have been caregivers, those who are currently caregivers, those who will be caregivers, and those who will need caregivers.”
— Roslyn Carter, Former U.S. First Lady

The Illinois Family Caregiver Coalition relies on all of us working together:

- Unpaid caregivers
- Advocacy groups
- Human services organizations
- Policymakers
- Businesses
- Disease-specific groups
- Policy research groups
- Healthcare providers
- Kinship care providers
- The LGBTQ+ community
- Veterans & their families
- Disability & behavioral health communities

We Need to Support Unpaid Caregivers Now

The Illinois Family Caregiver Coalition (IFCC) is an inclusive, state-wide, nonpartisan coalition supporting and advocating for unpaid, informal caregivers.

To support unpaid caregivers, the IFCC is:

- Identifying, promoting, and advocating for policy changes benefitting caregivers,
- Launching a public awareness campaign in Illinois, spotlighting the importance of caregiving and offering resources for caregivers,
- Discussing 2021 recommendations from the federal RAISE Family Caregivers Act with national stakeholders and developing strategies to ensure their implementation,
- Reviewing best practices for caregiving in Illinois, as well as other states, and promoting them broadly.
